“ The Dickerson, Black family and loved ones on Anita are in my prayers during this very difficult time. May the scripture in the video below give you comfort.

If you had the opportunity to see your dead loved ones again, alive and in perfect health here on earth, would you take it?

Of course, we all would!

If so, please watch this short, faith strengthening video; "Can The Dead Really Live Again?"

“ My first memory of Anita was as a smiling, sparkle-eyed high school freshmen. Her face was always lit with an eagerness and joy for whatever the day had to give. Over the years when I would see her, that light was still in her face and that sparkle was still in her eyes. It brings great sadness to know that light is now gone. Prayers for strength to all those that loved her.

“ I'll complain first. I'll grieve later.

Anita was even more beautiful on the inside as she was in the outside.

She was generous to a fault.

She absolutely wore me out ever time I'd visit. I'd laugh so hard my ribs would hurt. I'd grin so much my cheeks would cramp.

And it was only ever single visit that she would drag out the goodbyes and I Love You's until you were very late for any planned departure. I had to start lying to her and tell her I had to leave at 10am cause I knew I couldn't actually drive away until noon.

And if I had spent the night... bedtimes were always a joke. She would say goodnight and then come back again and again and again giggling and laughing. We were usually to point of having headaches from laughing until I would insist she leave me alone.

I love her like crazy. She has to know what a great impact and impression she made in so many peoples lives.

Love ya Sis.
