“ Life got in the way. I didn't get to know you like I should have. I only met you once to my memory but I'm sure as a small child I saw you more? You have been in my thoughts a lot these past few days and I sure would have loved to have sat down with you and shared a conversation or two. My prayers are with our family and your friends as they grieve the loss of a fine man. As for you, I'm sure you are smiling and laughing and getting reacquainted with family in heaven. God Bless. - Donna DeBord

“ What a wonderful photo of a great man. I met Eual at the Elliott County Senior Citizens Center in Sandy Hook. No matter who or how many were at the Center, Eual always had a smile, laughter and great stories to share with us. It isn't everyday that a truly gentle man enters our lives to enrich us. He will be missed.

My prayers are with Lucille, family and friends for peace, comfort and strength at this time and as time goes on without Eual. Share your love and memories. Continue to tell family stories. As long as you do this, he will always be remembered for the wonderful Christian man he was. May God's loving arms enfold you.

“ Eual and Nora were our neighbors here in Wilmington upon purchasing our home 11 years ago. We became very close friends. They took our family in as their own and we gladly did for them the same. Eual was one of the wisest souls of a human being that I e ever known. His spirit to do what was good by God and his heart made of the greatest gold will be a part of our family forever. Our oldest son Lukas would run to Eaul as a toddler to go jump on his lap while he mowed the lawn. Lukas also spent many a summer evenings eating cherries with Eaul and spitting the seeds out on the lawn! I'm so thankful to Eaul for creating these memories with my son! He will forever remember them!

To the children of Eual and Nora- oh how lucky you are to have been raised by the best. I heard more than once daily, how much you were all loved. Family was most important to them! I can see the huge hugs that Nora is giving Eaul right now, as they've met again after their short separation on earth. May heaven take them both and let them shine upon all whom they love!
