“ I love you, Dad!!! I will forever hold onto the memories we made. You taught me to look for gold, you taught me to dig for clams, and you always told me how beautiful I was every time you saw me! Most of all you made me laugh... It's the one thing you passed down to me and I hold it so dear.. it's what we freely give to others without asking for anything in return... Well, and you also passed down your good looks to me, Dad!!! ❤️ I miss you, but I feel you on my heart until I see you again!

“ You have been a part of my life for the past 53 yrs. We may not have always been living with or near one another but your name (uncle Gizzmo) would come up often and always with the remembrance of something funny that you had done or something funny you said. We went on many camping and fishing trips together and always had good times and made good memories. We lived together with no running water electricity or indoor plumbing but you and other family made them days some of the best memories I'll ever have. I will not forget you uncle gizzmo. I love you.. R.I.P
